

On a last Whin

Two properties remain for sale from Walker Group's first phase of development, The Whins at Meadow in Tranent.

Situated off Ormiston Road, Meadow Parks will feature an impressive 800 homes on completion, which will be constructed over several phases, creating a new micro community and thriving neighbourhood within the heart of one of East Lothian's most ancient towns, Tranent.

Both five bedroom detached villas, the last remaining Nethan and the Esk are ideal family homes which offer three and four public rooms, perfect for a growing family or homebuyers seeking additional space and versatile layouts.

The popular five-bedroom detached Nethan offers a flexible family living space. The ground floor is home to its three public rooms including a large lounge with feature bay window, separate dining room also with bay window and a spacious family room, perfect for relaxing and socialising with the kids. Downstairs there is also an expansive fitted kitchen with breakfasting area.

Heading upstairs is an impressive staircase, which leads off to five well laid out bedrooms, two of which have en-suite facilities, creating a perfect master bedroom and excellent guest room. To maximise space all bedrooms feature fitted wardrobes, a must have in today's new build properties. The other bedrooms have the space and layout to allow them to become versatile environments, transforming them from bedrooms into an office/study or even a home gym.

A family bathroom, double integral garage, utility room, downstairs WC, ample storage and large landscaped garden completes this substantial home.

The larger Esk property presents an impressive four public rooms and five bedrooms, two of which also feature en-suites. The property also comes complete with a detached double garage.

"The Whins offers an amazing selection of larger homes and these last remaining properties give homebuyers a final chance at this phase to snap up a home which can not only adapt to any lifestyle through their spacious layouts but also present a large new built family accommodation at a fixed price," said Sandy Casey, Sales Manager, Walker Group.

Meadow Park is currently in its second phase of building. The Willows, the second phase, will offer no fewer than 84 homes including three and four bedroom semi-detached villas and three, four and five bedroom detached villas. Prices currently start from £203,000.
