HOMEBUYERS CAN BANK ON NEW DEVELOPMENT

Walker Group has sprung into action following the success of its Riverwoods development, with the launch this Spring of a new residential development called Carronbank in Falkirk

An outstanding success, Riverwoods, is an entirely new community to be spearhead by Walker Group and is a prime example of the town's growth as an emerging location to set up home. Spanning 70 acres, the community will accommodate 500 new homes on completion.

Building on this success, Carronbank captures the very best of new build living from its accessibility, both locally and as a commuter location due to its easy access to Edinburgh and Glasgow; to its presentation and choice of properties on offer.

In keeping with the heritage of the local community, the development has been named after the famous Carron ironworks which used to supply goods throughout the world such as the famous red pillar boxes.

Located off Ronades Road, Carronbank is especially suitable for growing families and buyers in search of executive stylish homes.

An amazing ten different property styles have been carefully selected to offer an unrivalled choice of design. All three, four and five bedroom properties, Walker Group has introduced two new house types at Carronbank, the Seymour and the Carlton. A four bedroom villa, with three public rooms the Seymour features an integral garage. The Carlton is one of the company's largest house styles available and features five bedrooms, three public rooms and an integral garage. Prices at Carronbank start from £208,000.

"While locals have always known the many benefits Falkirk has to offer, the town is attracting more people from outside the area to set up home here. It's excellent motorway links makes it easy for business travel, whilst its wealth of leisure, sporting and social amenities more than provide for family needs.

"The flexibility in choice of house styles combined with the careful presentation of the development streetscape provides a development which goes beyond buyers' expectations", said Sandy Casey, Sales and Marketing Manager.
