Sherwood poised for busy launch weekend

Just eight miles from Edinburgh, the town of Bonnyrigg is the perfect home location for a multitude of househunters and, with the launch of an exciting new housing development this weekend, an influx of even more buyers is on the cards.

The Sherwood development is the latest venture by Grange Estates, a division of Walker Group, and has already generated huge interest among homebuyers. The 72-home project will see an impressive 15 different house types for buyers to choose from including a range of three, four and five bedroom properties.

With prices starting from only £182,000 for popular house choice, the three bedroom terraced villa, 'The Beauty, Sherwood is expected to prove popular with young families and professionals alike.

Sandy Casey, Sales Director at Walker Residential, said: "Designed with the modern family in mind, Sherwood offers excellent choice for an array of buyers' needs. Stunning exteriors boasting fine architecture with plenty of character are complemented by contemporary interiors offering the best use of space for busy, everyday living.

"We have been answering queries from eager buyers desperate to purchase at Sherwood for the past few months and we expect this weekend to be very busy!"

Laid out in a pleasant formation of private streets and cul-de-sacs, Sherwood's 72 new homes form an agreeable new community. Other properties available include the grand, four bedroom detached villa, 'The Windsor', which incorporates a spacious lounge with feature bay window and separate dining room, plus a generous kitchen with access to the single integrated garage through the utility room.

The majestic five bedroom home, 'The Nethan, embodies elegance with fantastic use of space throughout. A large family kitchen with informal dining area is complemented by a stylish dining room whilst the large lounge offers a relaxing environment ideal for unwinding after a busy day. Upstairs, well-proportioned bedrooms, including master ensuite, offer the perfect space for all the family. A double garage and pretty turfed gardens complete this stunning family dwelling.

As well as being ideally located for an easy commute to Edinburgh, the town of Bonnyrigg also offers a wealth of amenities. Good schools are in close proximity to the Sherwood development as is excellent shopping, leisure and entertainment facilities.
